Sisteron

Citadel placed on the southern banks of the Inher River. It is the first line of defense for the Fleurs (Aasimar) against the Hongsu and is their largest fortress.

Donderbluff

Capital city of the Thaté \(Halflings\) people. The city is situated on top of a large plateau that has a huge windmill built into it. It's the location of most of the aviation industry that exists as well. The Thate view flight as the ultimate form of freedom and make a pilgrimage once in their lives if they are able to partake in a ride through the skies around the area.

The city is a hub for trade and spiritual practice for the Thate. It is also the most common resting place of Hondje, the guardian of the Thate people.
